Hangkons, August 12th, 1486. On the 23rd ultimo, moved thereto by the case of the Chinese detective Li Fan, we felt compelled to make the Chinese Contingent of the Police Force the subject of some severe strictures, and we then reminded the Government that years ago we called attention to the fact that the lokangs were in the pay of the gambling-house keepers. The correctness of our statements -which were made on most trustworthy and wholly disinterested Chinese authority-has now received sudden and startling confirmation. The cupidity of the lokangs got the better of their prudence; they gave one turn of in all parts of China. No longer are there memothe screw too many, and the gamblers bave had their revenge. They laid information at note that in Manchuria the production has largely the Police Office, got an Inspector sent down to witness the truth of their disclosure, and having craftily arranged for payment of the The Acting Superintendent, Major DEMPdecision of the Government. But whatever the motive or circumstances that led to the conviction of these men, it is veroment to take measures for the reconetruction of the Police Force and the purging it of useless, incompetent, and corrupt Chinese. There is too much reason to fear that the lower classes of the Chinese population have for years grouned under an organised pass of paying her tribute to the originator of tyranny, which has become more and more

STARTLING POLICE FORCE DISCLO-SURES IN HONGKONG.

On Tuesday morning, the 10th inst., a wholesale suspension of lokangs in the Police Force of this colony took place under the orders of the Acting Superintendent, Major Demoster. No ess than fifty-three members of the Chinese contingent were suspended from duty gambling houses. From the information gambling masters it would seem that th okanga not content with collecting black mail from these houses, put on the screw too tightly, and hence the information was lodged at headquarters. The consequence was that Inspector Mathieson was deputed to make investigations, and he accreted himself in a cookloft in Taipingshan-street, from which coinn of vantage he saw the whole 53 lokangs come up taking their strings of cash or other money the open street one after another, and squabbling and quarrelling over their pay. It is probable that such a wholesale paying off is not an ordinary event, but that the gamblers planned it for them, and organised a sort of squeezo parade of the Force for the benefit of the "chiel" who was taking notes in the cock loft. As the lokangs came up Mr. Mathieson noted them down, reported them to head quarters, and they are now suspended from duty pending decision as to what further stops are to be taken. Large as is the number of offenders thus caught, there is but too much ground for belief that there are many more who have their greed to carry them beyond safe limits. A proaching such a wholesale conviction of corrupt cases. It will now be easy to understand why The United States Senate has shelved the public gambling cannot be stamped out, and the services of such a large body of men-almost one third of the entire Chinese contingent of the Force-cannot fail to create a serious difficulty for the moment in the Police organisation of the Colony it is to be hoped however, it will not have a paralysing effect. Probably the ultimate effect of it will be a radical change in the system, and an increased efficiency

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha's steamer Shima Morse, was turned over to her new owners, and hoisted the Korean flag on the 16th July. She was expected to sail for Jenchuan on the 20th, in command of Captain F. Meyer, late chief, officer of the Tsuruga Maru. Our contemporary, the Jupan Herald, is under the impression that the Shima Maru is the first steamer owned by Korcans, but such is not the case, as a small coasting steamer was purchased here by a Korean Company, through the agency of Capt. Koch, several weeks ago.—Nagasaki Express.

YOKOHAMA.

Mr. C. R. Greathouse, the new United States Consul-General for Yokohama, arrived at that port in the O. & O. steamer Gaelic on the 28th ult., accompanied by Mrs. Greathouse.

Says the Japan Herald :- We believe we are payable at any of its Agencies. correct in stating that an understanding has virtually been reached that mixed residence shall Contributors of Business, whether they are be provided for in the new treaties, in consideration of a certain measure of Japanese jurisdiction outside of existing treaty limits being agreed to. "A Soul correspondent writes to a Japan contemporary to the effect that Russia has recently preferred a request to the Korean Government that a tract of land lying to the north of Wonsan, and measuring about 800 square miles, be opened for the residence and trade of Russian fficials and subjects.

The Japan Heraldis responsible for the following :- The subscription in Shanghai for a memorial to the late Sir Harry Parkes, it is rumoured. is not being proceeded with as satisfactorily as desired. The amounts for which some of the leading firms there have inscribed their names on the list being, for such an object, much smaller than might have been reasonably anticipeted.

The Japan Mail translates the following from the Nichi Nichi Shimbun :- Mr. Kim. who has been staying at the Grand Hotel in Yokohama, Policies issued for long or short periods was arrested on the 26th July by the Kanagawa corrent rates. Japanese authorities applied for a warrant of Policies issued for sums not exceeding £5.000 ceptional. The Minister, after repeated communications with the Foreign Office, gave the necessary instructions to the Consulate to issue the warrant this Work stands unrivalled. All the new Policies at current rates, payable either here, words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance at of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best [10] principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained; and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore charac-THE Oldest and Largest Paper in the terized Chinese publications.

INGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION. An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service

L Colony, with a Circulation far ahead of To the illustrate the vast scope of the work following facts are submitted for consideration: THE ONLY CEYLON JOURNAL that Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 receives regular SPECIAL TELEGRAMS Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst from Bombay, Madras, Galle, &c.; besides this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese charac-Subscription, with Postage, to China and ters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples Subscription for China, Japan, Straits, &c., this work contains more than five times as lished. For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested China it cannot but be invaluable occasion.
